Dear Ian,

Thank you for your enquiry.

"I have received no payment on an Army Pension due to me from 13/09/2015, as a result of gross negligence and intransigence by Equiniti Paymaster. I was required to supply my bank account details on a grossly erroneous form of EP's creation (I cannot present UK cheques here in Mexico). I gave information and explanation that would both enable payment to be made, and prompt them to review and correct their form; but EP has done neither. Instead, EP rejected my form, and stonewalled subsequent attempts to resolve the matter. Veterans UK made several efforts on my behalf, but could also get nothing from them.

Post from the UK is extremely slow (around 3 months), and as a result of this and EP's persistent unresponsiveness, following an internal dispute resolution procedure by post is likely to take years without a successful outcome. And EP's information does not even mention an IDRP; their Complaints Procedure appears unacceptable on at least two points.

Please see the website I am developing to promulgate this matter:

www.vivazamora.mx/ArmyPensionFiasco

This includes complete content of all correspondence involved. I would be grateful if you could review this, especially their form (link on first page under Definitions table) and Complaints Procedure (Events(main) -> 13 December 2015). Please respond by email.

This should be a very simple case to resolve given EP's patently ridiculous form and disgraceful conduct; yet EP appears to believe it can get away without accepting any fault or making any payment."

Ian,

Thank you for your missive.

I have to say that we are strictly neutral when we attempt to help get this resolved.

In order for us to do so, we need to know that you have made a formal complaint, using their processes.

The disputes procedure is set out in this booklet, which I will presume that you have?

To intercede on your behalf, if we agree that there is a case to answer, we will need your authority to do so. The form for that is attached.

You will need to print it, complete and sign it. You may then scan it and email it back, as it would be impractical to rely on the post it seems.

http://www.pensionsadvisoryservice.org.uk/content/technical-material-files/uploads/form_of_authority_-_2013.pdf

On receipt we may then be able to make contact.

We will need to see the emails and post that between you that each have sent each other to see the "audit trail".

We have no powers to make the respondents do anything, but 85% of cases do typically get resolved this way.

If however, we are unable to help resolve it, whilst we cannot directly refer you to the Pensions Ombudsman (PO) (who must see that you have gone through the full dispute process and have reached an impasse), we can intervene earlier to try and resolve it quickly and amicably. If we cannot do so, you would then only complete and send the PO's form, as they can access our files, saving you the trouble of starting again or repeating the copy of papers.

Ultimately, the PO does have the power to instruct the AFPS to settle the issue and make awards if he thinks suitable. These awards commonly are not high, so expectations, were it to come to this, should be low.

Do have a read of this leaflet. I will apologise that it is in print format.... Do read in page number order!
